

Position: SoilView Probe Technicians

JOB DESCRIPTION: PROBE TECHNICIANS process orders to follow a precise protocol to install and connect a moisture probe and telemetry unit in corn/cotton/milo fields. Must be a dependable, independent, responsible worker. Full-time temporary work in May and June. Must be available to work 6 days a week, 12-14 hr days. Will work alone on most days. Area of work is the Panhandle of Texas.

JOB REQUIREMENTS

JOB RESPONSIBILITIES

- Strong work ethic & Outstanding character.....represent SoilView in the field and in being responsible and accountable for all MISS equipment while physically caring for installation sites following a precise protocol
- Attention to detail & accuracy with with GPS knowledge.....reading orders, navigating to field sites, understanding specific installation coordinates while connecting telemetry, identifying & recording precise probe information
- Organization/Time Management skillsbeing able to work independently and cost effectively and execute a daily installation/extraction plan with preparation for the following day, communicating needs following proper chain of command
- Basic mechanical skills.....being able to perform necessary maintenance checks on equipment
- Excellent Driving Record.....being responsible for operating a company vehicle while following all company safety policies & procedures

- Seasonal outdoor
Work with some long days &
Possible weekends with Some overnight travel.....performing timely installation/extraction of probes across a region where overnight travel can be up to 2 weeks at a time to meet customers' needs and overcome weather changes
- Physically demanding
Outdoor work with ability
To lift up to 50lbs.....in installing/extracting probes in various terrains & outdoor conditions

Midwest Independent Soil Samplers, LLC is an equal opportunity employer.